Stiffer Controls Proposed For Trading Stamps

LANSING (AP)—Proposals aimed at stiffening state control over the operations of trading stamp companies are in the works in both houses of the legislature.

A bill that would require trading stamp firms to be licensed by the state, and to post surety bonds for the protection of consumers and retailers, was filed Monday for introduction in the House.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Lucille McCullough, D - Dearborn, with bi-partisan support, followed the introduction earlier of an almost identical bill in the Senate by Sen. Charles Blomdy, D-Detroit.

Both pieces of proposed legislation are based on the findings of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's investigation of the collapse last year of the Merchants Green Stamp Co., of Detroit.

Firm Goes Bankrupt

Mrs. McCullough said the House bill is designed to provide "reasonable regulation of trading stamp companies ... with the best interests of the consumers, retailers and companies themselves in mind."

The proposed legislation would empower the Michigan corporation and securities commissioner to issue and revoke licenses annually. All companies would be required to post performance bonds conditioned on redemption of stamps collected and presented for redemption.

The bond would be used to satisfy claims in cases of default by a company.

When the Merchants Green Stamp Co. went bankrupt it left several thousand persons in the Detroit area. Southeastern Michigan and Northern Ohio holding worthless stamps. Hearings are still being held in the case.

More Freeway Speed

In another bill introduced in the House Monday, Rep. Adam Summerville, D-Detroit, proposed that a 45-mile-per-hour minimum speed limit be imposed on all state freeways. A similar bill was introduced earlier in the Senate.

A Senate bill introduced Monday night called for a supplemental appropriation of $1,200 for a salary increase for the chairman of the state public service commission for March, April, May and June of this year. The measure, sponsored chiefly by Sen. Stanley Thayer, R - Ann Arbor, also would increase the chairman's annual pay from $13,500 to $17,000.

Other Senate bills would:

- Increase the number of circuit court judges in Washtenaw County from one to two (Thayer).
- Open up a quail hunting season during the last five days of the annual pheasant season in the counties of St. Joseph, Branch, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe, Wayne, Washtenaw, Jackson, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Eaton, Ingham, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb. Hunters would require the written consent of the property owners and be limited to four quail per day and 12 in any one season (Robert).

Marines Hike; He Who Falterers Is In Disgrace

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP)—Brig. Gen. R. McC. Tompkins calmly lit a cigarette, took a firm grip on his walking stick and determinedly led 33 other Marine officers away on a 50-mile hike today.

It wasn't exactly the day for long-distance walking, assuming there was any interest in hiking at all. It had rained most of the night, a drizzle was falling as the men shoved off, and rain was forecast during the day.

Only Two Wives

Everything went off with neat military precision.

Maj. George Fox, the official starter, assembled the first group two minutes early. Then as the seconds ran out, he tolled them off. "Four, three, two, one, zero!"

"Blast off!" cried an irreverent voice from the rear and the general and five assorted captains and lieutenants, who made up the first group, blasted off for their hike.

The early morning spectacle attracted a covey of watchers headed by Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commanding general of the 2nd Marine Division. Moments before takeoff, he gravely shook hands with Gen. Tompkins, who looked as fit and ready as any man of 51 can.

Curiously, only two wives and one offspring showed up for this great occasion. Carma Hume, the wife of Lt. David Hume of London, Ohio, was there with their 20-month-old son, David Scott Hume. So was Jane Williams, wife of Lt. Ben Williams of Oklahoma City, Okla.

It's No Joke

The two wives and David plan to drive along in a station wagon and watch their husbands suffer through their long ordeal. Mrs. Hume even had a motion picture camera to record the event.

But mainly, everything was fairly grim, for this is the day that Marines learn whether they are as physically fit as Boy Scouts, female reporters or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

What began as a lark quickly turned into something decidedly different.

Marine Commandant Gen. David M. Shoup discovered an ancient order by President Teddy Roosevelt that showed how a 1908 Marine was expected to march 50 miles within three days.

Shoup sent the old order to President Kennedy, who wondered whether today's Marines were as fit. So the tests were called for.

But horrors! Before the Marines could prove how remarkably trained they are, a passel of fitness fiends, from the attorney general on down, had hit the road for 50-mile jaunts.

Walking, an almost forgotten art in this motor-mad nation, suddenly became as important as goldfish swallowing once was.

So the Marine who falters now is in disgrace. And, alas, the guessing here Monday night was that some might fail.

A veteran sergeant, pleased to see his officers on trial, predicted that at least three will never finish.

The sergeant hastily explained he wasn't doubting present-day officer material. What he was counting on, he said, was that some officers will have boots that are not well broken in, and that blisters will take their horrible toll.

The rules of the road are simple. Each officer is on his own. He must twice circle a 25-mile course at any speed he desires and is free to stop at any or all of the three rest stops. But he must hobble across the finish line, with a sprint, if possible, within three days. And his actual walking time must not exceed 20 hours.

Thirty-one of the marchers are lieutenants and captains drafted for this unenviable chore. General Tompkins, Col. J. O. Bell and Maj. C. J. Cizek have volunteered for the long hike.

Truckers Testify Teamster Official Took Illegal Fees

CHICAGO (AP)—Two former employees of a Michigan trucking firm have backed up government charges that a Teamsters Union official accepted illegal payments from the company.

The government witnesses in U.S. District Court Monday were Gary Katano, former cost clerk for Interstate Motor Freight System Inc., Grand Rapids, and John Burge, Laguna Beach, Calif., a former vice president of the firm.

The government contends that Thomas Keegan, former business agent for Chicago Teamsters Local 710, accepted payoffs totaling $9,600 from the firm between 1956 and 1961 in violation of the Taft-Hartley law.

ana, with freezing marks expected in the Gulf Coast.

Snow also fell in northern parts of Georgia and Alabama and eastern Tennessee and a narrow band of freezing rain pelted areas from Montgomery, Ala., to the Great Smokies.

In Jacksonville, Fla., the Weather Bureau warned of flooding and further erosion in Jacksonville beach communities from the third storm which struck the northern Florida coast this winter. Beach communities waited for 100 carloads of granite from North Carolina to be used to plug holes in seawalls.

Much of Texas was glazed with ice and snow. Six inches of snow was dumped in the Lubbock area in west Texas, with four inches in Nacogdoches in the eastern section. Schools in many areas were closed.

Fresh Assault Made By GOP On 'Inept Conduct'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration, under heavy fire from its political opponents, is striking back at Republican critics of its Cuban policy.

In the face of a fresh assault by GOP congressional leaders on "the inept conduct of our foreign affairs by the Kennedy administration," Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., have teamed to condemn what they called partisan and irresponsible charges.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, pointed his guns at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa. He told the Senate Monday that "irresponsible public utterances are playing dangerously with the fires of public emotion."

People Confused

Humphrey called on Republicans to make certain that "a rash of charges that cannot be substantiated by facts do not find their way into this chamber" or into the newspapers.

"The people are worried, concerned and indeed confused because of so many conflicting reports," he said. He added that President Kennedy, the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency "have been frank and candid" in disclosing Soviet military strength in Cuba.

Mansfield said Rockefeller was well informed on Latin American affairs, but, "I must confess that I looked in vain for a contribution worthy of him" in the governor's comments on Cuba.

Rockefeller has said the administration's disclosures about Cuba left many unanswered questions. He said that while Soviet soldiers and equipment there may not pose a military threat to the United States, they constitute a propaganda, subversive and possible military threat to other hemisphere nations.

Missile Deal Denied

Mansfield flatly denied — as Scott had suggested — that there was any deal between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Kennedy for the removal of American missiles in Europe in exchange for the withdrawal of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

In a barb patently aimed at Keating, one of the most vocal critics of the administration, Mansfield told his colleagues he would be the last to suggest that members of Congress know less about matters pertaining to Cuba than the President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense.

"But I would suggest most respectfully," he said, "that the responsible course which helps rather than hurts the nation would be for these well-informed members to take their inside, unimpeachable information on Cuba to the appropriate departments at the same time that they take it to the press galleries."

Democrats Want Witnesses When They Visit Romney

LANSING (AP)—Four members of the all-Democratic state administrative board have agreed to take a witness along when Gov. George Romney calls any one of them in for a private conversation.

Their reason, according to a Democratic party spokesman, is that "the governor can't be relied upon to give a complete accounting of what goes on."

Ad board members have clashed frequently with the Republican governor — in regular meetings and in private—since he took office Jan. 1.

The latest blowup occurred last week when Dr. Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, and Romney gave different versions of a conversation they held in the sanctity of Romney's office.

Bartlett was among the four who agreed to the "witness plan" at a meeting Monday night, and he was the first to comment on it afterward, calling the idea "very unusual."

Others involved in the agreement were Secretary of State James Hare, Auditor General Billie Farnum, and State Treasurer Sanford Brown.

Georgians Seek Impeachment Of Justice Warren

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Tight security measures and signs calling for his impeachment greeted Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, Monday night. City and state leaders urged Georgians to treat the Supreme Court official with dignity and respect.

Warren is to speak today before an audience of students and faculty at Georgia Tech, commemorating the 75th anniversary of the school.

He arrived late Monday night under close police security. A few hours earlier an Atlanta physician was assured in state court that he had the constitutional right to display signs calling for impeachment of Warren. Twenty-four signs have been placed about the city on private property.

Warren was chief justice in 1954 when the Supreme Court outlawed segregation in public schools.

Georgia Tech began desegregation in 1961, as did Atlanta city schools.

The court case was launched by Dr. Henry G. Stelling, member of a group calling itself the Atlanta Committee for the Impeachment of Earl Warren. He asked the court to forbid Atlanta and its police force from removing or defacing the signs.

Stelling's petition was dismissed by Superior Court Judge Durwood T. Pye after an attorney for the city, Newell Edenfield, told the court that the city was in complete agreement that the physician had the right to place the signs on private property with the owners' consent.

Stelling said the committee sent a telegram to the chief justice which read in part: "We feel that you should know that you are not welcome here. We feel that you have not upheld your oath to defend the Constitution of the United States of America."

Some literature was distributed in the Georgia Legislature calling for Warren's impeachment, but most lawmakers dismissed it as "trash."

The anti-Warren activities prompted fears of a possible demonstration at the airport and a large group of state and city law enforcement officers were on hand. Newsmen and photographers were kept away from Warren and the party of officials greeting him.

Firms Convicted Of Price-Fixing

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Eight brass and copper firms and five officers in the companies were found guilty Monday of conspiracy to fix prices in the industry.

U.S. District Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld ordered the guilty findings following a switch in plea from innocent to no contest by 13 of the 18 defendants in the case.

Blumenfeld scheduled sentencing for March 4. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of a $50,000 fine and one year in prison.

Three other companies and two officials are standing firm on their pleas of innocent. They are: Anaconda American Brass Co., Scoville Mfg. Co. and Chase Brass & Copper Co., all of Waterbury; and Justice Lockwood, vice president in charge of sales for Anaconda and Maurice Liston Jr., sales manager of Scoville. No trial date has been set.

The firms that will be sentenced March 4 are: Phelps Dodge Copper Products, Reverse Copper and Brass Inc., and Cerro Corp., all of New York City; Bridgeport Brass Co., of Bridgeport, Conn.; Calumet & Hecla, Inc., of Chicago; Mueller Brass Co., of Port Huron, Mich.; Triangle Conduit and Cable Co., of New Brunswick, N.J.; and Progress Mfg. Co. of Philadelphia.

The company officers who pleaded no contest included John Dummer, a former Calumet and Hecla executive and Alfred Dapert, vice president of sales of Mueller Brass.

Rocket Goes 990 Miles Into Space

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—A rocket fired here soared 990 miles into space in a probe of the hazards of the Van Allen radiation belt.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists said the Argo D8 Journeyman radioed back valuable information during its 27-minute flight from the Point Arguello naval missile facility late Monday afternoon. It hit 1,250 miles south of here, in the Pacific off Mexico.

Nuclear Control Deal Suggested

GENEVA (AP)—Britain's chief disarmament negotiator said today the Western powers may be willing to scale down still further the number of on-site inspections needed to control a nuclear test ban.

British Minister of State Joseph Godber told a news conference shortly before the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference that any such Western concession would require a corresponding Soviet willingness to meet the Western demand for fool-proof safeguards.

The Soviet Union has offered to allow two or three inspections a year on Soviet territory, as well as the installation of three "black box" automatic recording stations. The West has rejected this as inadequate.

The United States and Britain maintain that eight to 10 inspections and seven to 10 black boxes would be necessary to give adequate safeguards against violation of a test ban treaty.

Godber said the Western inspection requirement was based on a ratio of one inspection for every five unidentified seismic tremors in an average year.

Blizzard In Italy

Lincoln Honored At White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican president in the White House, will be honored today by the present Democratic occupants with a birthday party keyed to civil rights.

In advance of the party, President Kennedy will receive a special 250-page historical report on the progress made in civil rights in the 100 years since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

The President and his wife invited some 800 top officials and civil rights leaders from across the country to a buffet reception at the White House tonight, but banned press coverage of the event.

This is the first such major social event at the White House during the Kennedy administration where no reporters have been allowed.

Asked why there was a press ban, except for a brief picture-taking session, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said some events at the White House were open to coverage and others were not.

Lincoln's birthday traditionally has been a Republican day of celebration with dinners and speeches sponsored by the GOP. There were some grumblings in the capital that Kennedy was trying to take the publicity edge off such events.

New Iraq Regime Arms Civilians

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraq's new regime is reported arming civilians to help wage all-out war against diehard Communist supporters of slain Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

A traveler reaching Tehran, Iran, Monday said Iraq's new military rulers are arming civilians in Baghdad, Basra and other key cities to fight communist agitators.

The traveler said police and troops in Basra opened fire on 3,000 Communist demonstrators carrying portraits of Kassem. He said at least 250 were killed.

It appeared to be the fiercest offensive in the Middle East since the 1959 blood bath in Mosul. Then the Communists, in alliance with Kassem's troops, crushed a revolt by slaughtering hundreds of Socialists and nationalists.

Kassem was overthrown Friday and shot Saturday. The revolt leader, Col. Abdul Karim Mustafa, has sent police and troops to every province with orders to round up Reds and shoot them down if they resist.

Despite the new rulers' anti-Communist campaign, the Soviet government joined Washington and London in recognizing the revolutionary regime.

Schnozz Admits 70th Birthday

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jimmy (the Schnozz) Durante admitted today he had a birthday—his 70th—"but I don't want everybody to know about it."

The veteran entertainer, interviewed at a hotel where he is appearing, described his birthday, celebrated Monday night, this way:

"Thank God I had another birthday. Da party? Sure. It was after da show an' they asked me if I didn't want to come in and have some tea. It was a big surprise to me. We had a wonderful time."

"Mrs. Morris Lansburgh (whose husband owns the hotel) gave it. He's in Las Vegas. A few of my friends was there—George Raft, Eleanor Holm, Rocky Marciano, Little Jack Carter, Gene Bayless, Peter Lawford and a lot of others."

"I wanted to go four rounds with Rocky, but he wouldn't take me on. Everybody had a lot of fun."

Durante does an hour and 15-minute show and keeps going night after night.

"No other entertainers—just us," he said.

Between shows Monday night he entertained the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association at their annual banquet.

The record says Durante was born in Brooklyn in 1893 and that he started in show business at 17, which means he's starting his 54th year on the stage.

"Who th' hell knows?" he snorted. "In my day, we didn't have no doctors. Everybody had midwives. Maybe I picked da date at random. Nobody had birth certificates in them days."

"I could'a said 1910 or some in'. Maybe I should'a picked a date like that. I had a lot of trouble gettin' to Europe in 1936, 'cause I never had no birth certificate. I never did find one."

"But it's been a lot of fun, and I'll go on as long as I can—as long as they come to see me and I can make 'em happy."

Wives Are Given Advice On Beauty By Mrs. Romney

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. George Romney, who is a beauty in her own right, offered some homely advice at a meeting of beauticians here.

The wife of Michigan's governor told the Michigan National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Monday:

"Never serve your husband his meals in curlers or with face cream on your face, for he is the one who cares most about you and you owe it to him to look your very best."

Paraphrasing English poet John Keats, Mrs. Romney declared: "A woman of beauty is a joy forever."

New Winter Blast Strikes Southland

By The Associated Press

A fresh blast of wintry weather—with snow, sleet, strong winds and freezing temperatures—hit wide areas in the South from Texas to northern Georgia today.

The icy air from the northern Midwest, driven by strong northerly winds, dropped temperatures sharply in the Southern sections. The cold air headed into northern Florida. Readings from 15 to 20 degrees below normal were indicated.

Cold wave warnings were posted for parts of Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Two inches of snow and sleet, along with winds of 15 to 35 m.p.h. hit many areas in northeast Louisiana and central Mississippi. Up to four to five inches of snow was in prospect. Temperatures dropped to the teens in northern Mississippi and northern Louisiana.

Long, Cold Winter Brings 125 Frozen Water Services

Severe and continued cold plus soil and snow removal conditions this winter have combined to create a frost condition that to date has frozen 125 water services in Escanaba, it is reported by City Manager George Harvey.

The critical condition began Jan. 13 when the severe cold weather started and continued with the deep penetration of frost into the ground. The expense to the water department has been considerable and includes two costly weekend repair jobs on water mains.

Because of the unusual situation this winter, the water department has notified 585 water customers to leave their water running so the lines will not freeze. The city will deduct the cost of the water used from the customer's bill each month, and the cost is "very cheap compared to the cost of a single freeze-up thawed," said the manager.

Continuing Cold

Frozen water services are thawed by the city electric department with the use of transformer to create electric resistance in the service lines. This requires a crew of at least two men, plus a truck-mounted transformer, and each call averages between $15 and $22 of cost to the water department.

What causes the water services to freeze? There's more to it than just the cold, says the city manager.

For one thing, the air temperature has a cumulative effect and continued days when the mercury is below 32 degrees start frost penetration that deepens each day the air temperature drops below the 32 degree mark.

While surface cover, such as snow and sod, will reduce frost penetration, plowing streets and shoveling sidewalks exposes the ground surface and increases penetration of frost. There is also the influence of color—dark color of blacktop accelerates frost penetration.

Snow Cover Helps

A wet, rainy fall followed by cold weather will cause deep freezing; sandy soils such as compose most of the ground underlying Escanaba freeze deeper and faster than clay soils, regardless of snow cover; but snow cover is helpful and reduces frost penetration by at least its own depth.

The city manager points out that annual snowfall in Escanaba is less than in some other northern areas and even this covering is being removed in a larger amount each winter with the clearing of more streets, driveways and sidewalks.

"When these factors of soil, climate and snow conditions work together some winters, there is nothing that can be done to offset them," said City Manager Harvey. "Our water system is 75 years old and has survived all these winter hazards very well and very little criticism can be placed upon present or past installation methods."

The problem is one that occurs about every second year. Measures taken this year will eliminate some of the freeze-ups in the future—but when everything combines to cause frost trouble there is no real answer to the problem except warmer weather.

U. P. Power Names Barton Engineer

Gary H. Barton of Houghton has been promoted from engineering assistant to the new position of planning engineer for the Upper Peninsula Power Co.

A native of Flint, Barton joined the firm in 1958, following graduation from Michigan Tech. He will continue to work in the company's main office in Houghton with system-wide responsibilities. Stanley R. Michaelson of Elo, also a Michigan Tech graduate, was named engineering assistant to succeed Barton.

Meeting Opened By Episcopalians

BAY CITY (AP)—More than 750 clergy and lay delegates were to arrive here today for the 130th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan on Wednesday.

The delegates—600 lay members and 160 clergymen—represent approximately 110,000 Episcopalians in the eastern half of Lower Michigan. The state has two other dioceses: one is the Diocese of Western Michigan. The third is the Diocese of Northern Michigan, including the Upper Peninsula.

The Right Rev. Richard S. Emrich, diocesan bishop, will conduct the day long session, assisted by his two suffragan bishops, the Rt. Rev. Archie H. Crowley and Robert L. De Witt.

The 1963 convention, first held outside Detroit since 1929, will take up administrative reorganization, budget discussions, elections and committee reports. The proposed budget calls for expenditure of a record $718,800 compared with $700,160 in 1962.

The total breaks down into $559,000 for the state missions and $159,800 for operations. Comparable 1962 figures were $536,155 and $164,005.

Convention delegates said the proposed beefing of the missions budget was aimed primarily at increasing salaries of the mission clergy.

Delegates were to meet here this afternoon for advance studies of most major issues to come before the convention tomorrow. They also were to elect new diocesan trustees to the executive council, clergy and lay members of the cathedral chapter and delegates to the Anglican conference at Toronto later this year and the general convention in St. Louis in 1964.

An even-song service at the consistory of the Scottish cathedral tonight will be led by the Rt. Rev. John Crane, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Indianapolis. At tonight's service, the four bishops will install deans of the diocese's seven outstate convocations and its seven sectors in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

The convention will close with a banquet Wednesday evening with Bishop Emrich as main speaker.

Younger Citizens To Campaign For New Constitution

LANSING (AP)—The formation of young citizens for Con-Con, a state-wide group of young adults who will campaign for approval of Michigan's proposed Constitution, has been announced at Lansing.

Pete McPherson, a Michigan State University graduate student and chairman of the group, said chapters have been started in 39 counties. The organization will concentrate its efforts in areas not covered by other pro-Constitution groups, he said.

"Young people will live with the new Constitution longer than others," McPherson said. "We want our voice heard in support of the new document."

Constitution Is Called Crucial Vote Of Lifetime

The Michigan Farm Bureau held one of a series of public meetings on the new state constitution to be voted April 1 at the John A. Lemmer School Monday and when a State Highway Department employee charged that the document did not represent the majority will of Michigan he was told that it was accepted by the vote of representatives of 76 per cent of the population of Michigan.

The charge was made by Leo Rahoi, design engineer of the State Highway Department and son of State Senator Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain) and the answer came from Robert E. Smith of Lansing, associate legislative counsel of the Michigan Farm Bureau, who attended most of the sessions of the Constitutional Convention of 1962 which wrote the new constitution.

The charge was made by Leo Rahoi, design engineer of the State Highway Department and son of State Senator Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain) and the answer came from Robert E. Smith of Lansing, associate legislative counsel of the Michigan Farm Bureau, who attended most of the sessions of the Constitutional Convention of 1962 which wrote the new constitution.

The Escanaba League of Women Voters co-sponsored the meeting and supplied much of the small audience of about 24. Both the League, which has made a study of the new document, and the Farm Bureau are urging a yes vote by the public on the constitution on April 1.

Opposed By Union

The new constitution is opposed by the Michigan AFL-CIO and Rahoi distributed at the meeting handbills headed "Ask Yourself These Questions Before You Vote on Con-Con's Proposition — Protect Your Rights — Vote No." Sample questions: "Would the proposed constitution preserve the principle that all men are created equal? No . . . Would the present guaranteed right to vote be impaired? Yes . . ."

"We were expecting a large crowd," said Hugo Kivi of Escanaba, regional representative of the Farm Bureau. "We must try somehow to get this story across." "The vote April 1 will probably be the most important vote of our lifetime," said Smith. He reviewed the 7½ months of work of the 144 delegates which produced the new constitution. "No one gets everything they like in the new constitution," said Smith, "but most delegates thought it better for more people than the present constitution."

Suit Impends

Asked what happens if the document isn't ratified April 1, he explained that the state does not go back simply to its present constitution of 1908 because there are changes afoot in Michigan's basic government. One of them is the suit in the U. S. Supreme Court to change Michigan's method of representation in the state senate.

The new constitution is newly structured and would prevail over the suit, Smith suggested, but what will happen with the old one cannot be known. "The present suit couldn't apply to the new constitution," he said. It would apportion the Legislature on a population basis in the House and population (80 per cent) and area (20 per cent) in the Senate.

The people of Michigan voted overwhelmingly in 1952 against

4-H Fat Stock Project Begins

Six Delta County 4-H Club members have begun their experience in the raising of steers which will be sold at the annual Fat Stock auction to be held at the U. P. State Fair on Wednesday evening of Fair Week.

The four girls and two boys "weighed in" their eight beef animals at Felix Johnson's at Danforth on Saturday, marking the start of the learning experience which will reach its climax at the U. P. State Fair.

The young stock raisers, who will be seriously engaged in learning efficient feeding of their steers, following recommended practices to obtain the best rate of gain for their animals, are Joan Johnson and Betty Johnson of Danforth; Norman and Jackie Dittich and Ken Porath of Ford River; and Mary Sue Martin of Schaffers.

Leaders of the young people in their fat stock project are Clarence Dittich and Edward LaMarche.

Larry Bradford, Delta 4-H agent, said the eight steers averaged 550 pounds each in weight, and that the goal of the young beef owners will be to "shoot for a gain of two pounds or better per day, per animal" between now and the date of the sale next August.

Bradford expressed appreciation to the merchants and others who have supported the Fat Stock sale each year, since without their cooperation much of the incentive would be lost for the 4-H Club members.

board with a referendum decision on millage allocation.

The 4 per cent sales tax would remain, with a half cent to townships, villages and cities and 2 cents for schools.

Highway taxes remain earmarked for highway uses.

Manntie Retiring As Township Chief

By MRS. ALBERT WELDUM

Walter Manntie, who is retiring after 22 years of continuous service on the Maple Ridge Township Board, can't help but reminisce as he prepares his 23rd and final assessment roll.

During the years there have been many changes and improvements in the township. The assessed valuation of the township was $257,000 in 1941 and by 1962 it had jumped to $1,912,000 which according to Manntie was much too high for this area. Due to his protests a year ago the state tax commission lowered the total valuation $7,000. This means the 1963 valuation will be $1,842,000.

During his 22 years in office Manntie never missed a regular County Board meeting. He feels if one has a job, it should be done well, or one shouldn't take the job. During the 11 times he ran for election, he was opposed every election but two.

No Township Tax

He has served on various committees of the County Board of Supervisors, including finance, equalization, roads and bridges, health, legislative, sanitation, agriculture and various special committees.

The township is in good financial position now. In 1941 when he came into office, the township was in the red and was still taking 3 mills of the tax money for township purposes. For the past 19 years no millage has been taken from property owners for township use. The township has operated on its percentage of sales tax diversion money from the state.

Some of the major accomplishments in the township during the last 22 years include the building of a Fire Hall with water reservoir and the purchase of modern fire equipment worth about $25,000; cemetery improvements include tree planting, building of a tool house, construction of a new fence and hiring of a caretaker for many years.

Many Projects

In addition there was the purchase of 30 acres for the new dumping grounds where the trench type disposal is practiced; having helped the school at various times, totaling $20,000; installation of 16 new street lights; spending over $62,000 for construction and repairs on local roads; maintaining a skating rink in the community; contributing for a summer recreation leader, milk fund and safety patrol.

The community could have had a new town hall several years ago without any additional expense to the taxpayers as the township had the money in the treasury, but the proposal was rejected by the voters. Plans for 1963 include some financial help for the completing of the Osier road and a walkway from the school east to the Fred LeClaire corner.

In addition to being supervisor, Manntie takes out timber and raises purebred breeding stock on his Herford farm east of Rock.

"I've been on the Board a long time," he says, "and though I've enjoyed it, the time has come when I'd like to have a little more time to myself, and not feel tied down."

Fined $74.30 On Drinking Charges

Two Escanaba youths were fined a total of $74.30 after they pleaded guilty to being minors consuming beer, when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier Monday in Gladstone.

Ronald B. Tippet, 18, of 121 N. 19th St., was fined $45.70 plus costs of $4.30 on a charge of being a minor consuming beer and for having a false identification card, and Arthur Crouse, 17, of 1009 N. 16th St., paid a fine of $20 plus $4.30 costs, for consuming beer.

The pair was arrested by Gladstone City Police at 12:05 a. m. Sunday in a Gladstone tavern.

School For Cooks Starts In L'Anse

A new school for cooks and bakers began last week in L'Anse. The federally-financed school is being cooperatively sponsored by the L'Anse Township School Board, and Michigan Employment Security Commission and Michigan State University.

Don Swanson of Escanaba is among enrollees.

Students will graduate in May, before the beginning of the tourist season.

Delta Democrats Vs. Constitution

The Delta County Democratic Committee resolved Monday night to oppose the proposed new constitution to be voted April 1. It was consensus that there were some good provisions in the new proposed constitution, but some sections, it was felt, are damaging to the people, said James Chapakis, Democratic County chairman.

The committee stated: "The analogy was presented that if you put a few rotten apples in a barrel becomes spoiled. Mainly the provisions relating to reapportionment, to civil service, the abolishment of the justices of the peace, are detrimental. Persons applying for benefits through administrative agencies like unemployment compensation could be held up while the matter dragged through the courts. This is not true under our present constitution."

"The local committee by its action of disapproval, endorses the position taken by the Michigan Democratic Convention. It was felt that if the citizens of the state were given the opportunity to hear arguments against the proposed constitution, as well as the arguments for it, they would defeat it. It is not felt that the publicity given the proposed constitution gives the people a free choice."

"The local committee has no quarrel with those who have studied the proposed document, and are willing to take the bad with the good. The local Democratic delegate to the Constitutional Convention has voiced approval in this manner. He is and was a strong advocate of the county home rule, which most county boards of supervisors and county officers oppose. The option for county home rule is within the proposed document, and if adopted locally at a later time, the people's right to elect county officers would be taken away."

"The local Democratic Committee feels that the rights and independence of the people would be injured or set back if the new constitution were adopted. The committee realizes that Democrats will disagree, just as many Republicans have voiced opposition and have joined with the stand of the local Democratic Committee."

The "local Democratic delegate to the Constitutional Convention referred to in the Delta Democratic Committee's statement is Charles Follo, who says that the good features of the new constitution outweigh its deficiencies and that it should be ratified for the overall good of Michigan."

The Escanaba Daily Press has expanded its circulation to the Newberry area. This means 200 more subscribers with more to come. This is valuable additional coverage to Press advertisers.

College Trustee Forms Available

Nominating petitions for candidates for the board of trustees of Bay de Noc Community College are now available at the office of County Clerk William Butler in the Delta County Building.

In the April 1 election Delta voters will elect six trustees of the college to replace the present board, which was created for an interim of 6 months until an election in which trustees could be chosen on a staggered basis.

The present trustees were elected Nov. 6 and are J. L. Heirman, Clayton Ford of Cornell, Robert Groos of Groos, James Dotsch of Garden, Dr. Albert Jenke of Bark River and Charles Follo.

The April 1 vote will elect two trustees for two years, two trustees for four years and two for six years to take office July 1.

The petitions require 50 signatures to qualify a nominee.

The trustees named two members of the present board, Arthur Slaughter, treasurer, and Hagle Quarnstrom, secretary.

Republicans Will Nominate Saturday

The Republican State Convention will take place Feb. 15-16 at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids.

Delegates to the convention from Delta County include Delta County Republican chairman John Walbridge and Mrs. Walbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jensen, Escanaba and Mr. and Mrs. Alcott Erickson, Gladstone.

Study Expansion Of Steam Utility

Additional prospective customers show an interest in obtaining a supply of steam for heating from the city's central steam plant, the City Council has been advised by City Manager George Harvey.

To meet volume growth it would be necessary to increase the capacity of the boilers, which might cost an estimated $20,000, Harvey added.

A choice to be made would be between adding to the capacity by improving the facilities for developing steam through use of coal, or by converting the smaller of two boilers in the plant to oil.

The larger boiler in the steam plant has a rating of 35,000 pounds of steam per hour and is about 15 years old, according to Joe Paterek, superintendent of the steam utility. The other boiler is rated at 22,000 pounds of steam per hour and is in good condition although about 40 years old.

The two boilers cannot be used simultaneously because of limited smoke stack and pump capacity. The cost of expanding this capacity to accommodate both boilers would be about $20,000.

Should there be a breakdown, the course of action in the emergency could be: Firing of the No. 2 boiler (No. 1 now carries the load); services to the Chicago & North Western Railway could be cut down; and the boiler in the Junior High School could be reactivated to carry part of the load.

"Although this would not be a complete answer, it would prevent damage to any of our customers until repairs could be made," said Harvey.

"The Post Office has asked for an estimate on the cost of steam heating," the manager said. "The estimates have been made, but there has been no indication whether or not they have been acceptable. St. Patrick's Church must soon replace their boiler and they have made inquiries about steam heat."

UPCAP Concerns Told By Snyder In U.P. Review

The achievements of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) in its first year of operation were described to Escanaba Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting in the House of Ludington Monday by Abram Snyder of Marquette, Michigan State University community development specialist who was a chief author of UPCAP.

"The fact that UPCAP is operating is its major accomplishment," said Snyder, who was introduced by Ray McDonough. "This is the first official connecting linkage for the county governments of the Upper Peninsula in economic development, an evidence of public awareness that what happens in Ironwood can affect St. Ignace."

Other achievements of UPCAP in its first year cited by Snyder: 1. Creation of a technical committee chaired by Aarne Ervast of the Michigan Department of Economic Development.

2. Creation of an area development library in the State Library Branch in Escanaba.

3. Obtaining the consulting services of Robert R. Nathan Associates on U.P. development projects with a grant from the Area Redevelopment Administration. The staff of economists in Escanaba "is here to help with the Peninsula's economic development activity," said Snyder. "I feel that securing this economic consultant firm is a major accomplishment for UPCAP."

5. There are now 15 U.P. county planning commissions. Some have strong programs; some are just getting underway.

6. Region-wide approach to program for whole industries, like commercial fishing, mining, tourism, forest products, agriculture.

7. Development of relationships with other groups like the state government, Upper Midwest Council, U.P. Natural Gas Committee, U.S. Government, etc.

8. Increased sophistication in the Upper Peninsula in economic planning and development.

Among his concerns for the future of UPCAP Snyder mentioned:

1. Budget needs. "The $3,000 per year total budget of the UPCAP program (from county boards of supervisors) doesn't represent the cost of the UPCAP program." The long range needs are program, staff and budget.

2. The U.P.'s biggest county — Marquette—hasn't joined UPCAP. "Marquette County could be presumed to be losing population and in a declining economic position to the extent the rest of the Peninsula is, were it not for the air base, Northern Michigan College, the prison and Department of Conservation activities. Yet Marquette sees no reason why it should become a part of UPCAP."

One of its decision makers dismissed tourist promotion efforts because "the tourist business will come to Marquette anyway."

"When the Gogebic or Mackinac supervisors hear this they quite naturally question their own position. UPCAP will need to give close attention to the bonding cement of the organization. One way would be for UPCAP to become not dependent upon the support of the 15 county boards of supervisors."

3. "As UPCAP's end products appear, few will be able to directly associate the products with UPCAP. This is a concern because lack of recognition could result in lack of support."

Escanaba Planning Commission To Meet Thursday

The Escanaba Planning Commission will meet at 4 p. m. Thursday in the City Hall with Dale Vinette presiding. An election of officers is a part of the agenda.

The Commission is to consider the Omer Morey Addition; and in unfinished business may take up the following:

Revision of Plat No. 5 pending a report from the engineering department; and the proposed vacation of an alley in Block 6, Lake Shore Drive Addition, which has been held in abeyance awaiting developments in the widening of S. 23rd St.

Another matter concerns a zoning change on certain lots in the south half of Block 11 of the City Center Addition No. 3.

Lincoln's Words Live

This year marks the centenary of the crucial year of the Civil War — 1863 — the year which saw the long-awaited Emancipation Proclamation and the decisive battles of Gettysburg, Vicksburg and Missionary Ridge.

Lincoln's Birthday comes with observances of these and other events that took place 100 years ago. One of the greatest of these — in human, not military, terms — was Lincoln's address at the battlefield at Gettysburg on Nov. 19, 1863. It may not be amiss to anticipate this observance and to recall some of Lincoln's immortal words as we note the 154th anniversary of his birth today.

The address, a masterpiece of the English language, contains a mere 260 words, yet ten times that number could not have expressed more, could not have more eloquently summed up the immense human struggle the nation was engaged in.

Senator Edward Everett, one of the outstanding orators of the day, who preceded Lincoln on the platform and spoke for two hours, later wrote to Lincoln: "I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes."

Every schoolboy knows the opening words: "Four score and seven years ago..." But it is the closing words that speak directly to each new generation of Americans:

"... we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain — that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Too often, too many of us tend to think that government exists solely for the people, forgetting that unless it is representative of all citizens and regulated by the people in their capacity as voters, it becomes a tyranny for the benefit of the few.

But the 100 years that have passed since this darkest-brightest year in the history of the Union are good proof that the high resolve announced by Lincoln at Gettysburg has been kept by the majority of his heirs.

The nation passed through a great crisis a few months ago. It will not be the last, as far as any man can peer into the future.

Let us, on this day set aside in the name of Lincoln, re-dedicate ourselves to that great "unfinished work," which is the cause of human freedom.

Confidence In Government

Michigan should be concerned, as Governor Romney was, by the method of handling the scandal in the Michigan Employment Security Commission. A racket that bilked the state of $85,000 in public funds through fraudulent claims of unemployment was discovered by Governor Romney through outside sources and not official channels.

The swindle came to light last October, but even Max M. Horton, the director of the MESC wasn't informed of it until January and then he didn't report it to the governor's office. This was a cover up which compounds the offense and causes the people to mistrust their government.

The Doctor Says:

Sedentary Life Brings Backache

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — What is sacroiliac disease? What causes it and how does it affect you? Is there any cure?

A — The sacroiliac joint is at the lower end of the spinal column. Sprains in this region are common and very painful. Many people think that pain in the lower back is caused by diseased kidneys but we know now that it is due to a sudden wrenching or a chronic strain on the ligaments attached to the lower spine. A sudden sharp pain may be due to lifting a heavy object by using the back muscles rather than the leg and hip muscles.

The gradually developing backache may be due to weakness of the abdominal and back muscles caused by a generally sedentary life or by faulty posture. Faulty posture while walking is common in women who wear high-heeled shoes, especially if they change from one height to another with different activities.

Faulty posture while sleeping is due to sagging springs or mattress. Your doctor should determine the cause in your case. When the condition is acute it may be necessary to spend two or three days in bed. Aspirin or other pain-relieving drugs and the use of a heating pad may give some relief.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It may quiet down a little later on, but right now Uncle Sam is expected to become a No. 1 whipping boy in the Canadian political campaign leading up to the April 8 elections. This is one result of Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's ouster on a non-confidence vote, following his refusal to arm Canadian Bomarc missiles with U. S. nuclear warheads.

Many responsible Canadians, however, recognizing the bad aftereffects of an "anti-U. S." campaign at this time, are cautioning against this as international political nonsense.

While U. S. State Department and Pentagon officials—still trying to manage the news instead of just giving it out—are reluctant to talk about this fear of stirring up more charges of interfering in Canadian politics, Canadian officials in Washington are perfectly frank in saying that relations between all ranks of the two countries' armed forces couldn't be better.

As a matter of fact, the Permanent Joint Board on Defense, Canada-United States—PJBD—was meeting in San Diego, of all places, and not on the unarmed, 4,000-mile border between the two countries, when the hot political exchange between Ottawa and Washington took place. The military couldn't have been caught farther off base or more unprepared for a build-up of tensions.

PJBD was established more than 20 years ago by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King. It functioned effectively all through World War II.

After the war, co-operation was carried further with the building of three radar defense lines against possible Russian surprise attack across the Arctic.

There has been the closest Army, Navy and Air Force co-operation between the two countries. Generals and admirals know each others' plans and there are exchanges of personnel running into the hundreds, of all ranks.

If Canada tried to make everything for its own military forces, it couldn't produce in quantity sufficient to cut costs, so Canada buys much of its military equipment from the United States. In turn, Canadian manufacturers bid on many U. S. defense contracts to supply both countries or as subcontractors. This is made easier by the fact that many U. S. manufacturers have Canadian affiliates.

Canada spent about $250 million for U. S. defense supplies last year and the United States spent about $125 million in Canada are included in mutual defense operations, however, the exchange is roughly in balance.

U. S.-Canadian co-operation on nuclear development also began during World War II with the first contracts for uranium ores. These contracts began to phase out in 1963 as U. S. domestic and other free world supplies were discovered.

Canadian Nuclear Science developed right along with U. S. know-how. But Canada early decided against trying to make its own nuclear weapons as too costly.

Instead, the Canadian Defense Ministry adopted the U. S. Bomarc as its defense missile and built two bases, one north of Ottawa, the other near North Bay. It was understood all along that these missiles would have nuclear warheads furnished by the United States and there was no fuss about it.

But about this time the "ban-the-bomb" movement gathered strength in Canada. Foreign Minister Howard Green opposed nuclear armaments on the ground that it gave Canada greater international stature to be able to build its own bombs.

For over a year Diefenbaker has held up the decision to arm Canada with nuclear warheads although this did not make sense to his own military leaders. This is what really brought on the present crisis in the Canadian government.

Year To Decide Fate Of Peninsula Underground Iron

By JEAN WORTH

ISHPEMING—This is expected to be the year of decision on a project that may determine the fate of our underground iron mines of the Upper Peninsula for the foreseeable future.

Of the effort to agglomerate standard ores and make them more saleable to steel mills, Stanley Sundeen, manager of research and ore development for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., says "We will probably get a decision this year. We have done about all the test work that needs to be done to establish a basis for decision. A positive decision would involve commitment for expenditure of a lot of money for a facility."

"We are trying to save a few underground mines. We know how to agglomerate underground ores but we need to appraise the economic feasibility for a long-range investment. The high cost of underground mining, particularly high labor costs, makes this a matter of critical judgment as to whether we can expect to get enough return to justify the investment."

What's Ahead?

"We have spent a good deal of money on research to upgrade the concentrates we are already producing and are looking toward the beneficiation of hematitic jaspers that constitute the bulk of material on the range for 1975 and beyond. As the demand increases for this kind of furnace feed, what kind of projects are we looking forward to?"

"Cliffs has been spending between a half million and a million dollars a year on research. This was put forth with no more than the ordinary optimism of research people. If you work hard enough and long enough, you find an answer."

"The research division is the largest group of salaried people—55, and up to 75 persons during some programs—in the Cleveland-Cliffs organization."

"The margin of profit with the new low grade iron operations is not as good as with the old direct shipping ores, like the Mesabi, but you have to be able to sell the product and that's why we are beneficiating and agglomerating today."

Peninsula Prospects

"The hematitic jaspers of the western Menominee Range and the Gogebic Range are pretty far away from commercial beneficiation, I'm afraid. Minnesota has its taconites. Only the Marquette Range, and Felch District in Michigan are going to stay healthy for a while, I fear."

Sundeen said that CCI and its mining venture partners were producing iron pellets as good or better than the other Lake Superior area pellets which have 8 to 9 per cent silica content. (Silica is the quartz or chert which is the main gangue constituent; that is, the worthless rock in which valuable metals occur.)

"Our pellets are that good or better," said Sundeen, "and we are able to make pellets with only 4.5 or 5.5 per cent silica. The Empire Mine is predicated upon 63 per cent iron and 7.5 silica. Currently we are working on a pilot flow scheme to demonstrate if possible—and we think it is—a flotation of the Empire Mine concentrate to upgrade it to 4.5 or even 4 per cent silica, if necessary."

Improving Furnace Feed

"The Republic plant has commercial facilities to upgrade the original concentrate product, but not all the tonnage is processed through them because some steel

Voters Defeat Bond Issue

Voters in Gladstone by a vote of nearly 2-1 defeated the proposed $300,000 bond issue for the city's proposed water improvement project, during the special election at City Hall on Monday.

Of the total 1,332 voters that turned out for the election 887 voted "no" and 445 voted in favor of the project. The total turnout for Monday's election represented slightly over 50 per cent of the 2,554 persons registered to vote.

Had the vote been favorable Gladstone would have been eligible for a $300,000 federal grant, which would have paid half the costs of the improvement project.

The vote will be canvassed by the members of the Gladstone City Commission at their meeting Thursday evening. The meeting date had been moved to later in the week because of the special election on Monday.

Cameraman Gives Rotary Program

John Mincoff of Manistique presented the program at the regular meeting of the Gladstone Rotary Club held at the Yacht Club Monday noon. Noble Swenson was the program chairman.

Mr. Mincoff, a photographer, showed slides and pictures of fishing in South America.

State Police ticketed the following motorists for traffic violations: John R. Steris, Wheaton, Ill., improper overtaking and passing; Austin O. Ohlen, Rte. 1, Rapid River, no operator's license; Arvid P. Nelson, N. 17th St., Gladstone, drove wrong way on one-way street; Darryl E. Korby, Marquette, speeding and Angela C. Lustick, Traunik, no operator's license.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Michael LaPorte of Milwaukee are the parents of a son, born Monday in Milwaukee. The father is a former Gladstone resident and is the brother of Mrs. Karen Dahlgren and Mrs. Pat LaCrosse.

Ann Landers
Son In Curlers?

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice is fairly good most of the time but you are wrong once in a while. Recently you told a mother not to put curlers in her son's hair because children who are treated like members of the opposite sex sometimes develop homosexual tendencies.

I would like you to know that I've been putting curlers in my son's hair since he was three years of age. He is eight now and just loves to go to the beauty shop with me. When I make an appointment for myself I make one for him, too.

I'll have you know that my son is ALL boy. He's not a rough-neck but he's not a sissy either. He likes model airplanes and ships and never misses a war story on TV. He also enjoys masculine sports and even plays on the Little League baseball team.

So, you see, Ann Landers, you don't know everything.—A MOTHER WHO IS RAISING AN ALL-AMERICAN BOY

Dear Mother: You're right. I don't know everything. But I DO know that an eight-year-old son should not be sitting under the dryer in the beauty shop next to his mother.

If this All-American boy of yours goes to Little League practice with curlers in his hair you'd better teach him how to fight.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife's mother is dying of cancer. The doctors say she can't live more than a few weeks. My wife is taking it awfully hard. Her mother lives two thousand miles from here and the trip would be expensive.

Her sister has written that their mother is under heavy sedation and sometimes she doesn't recognize members of the family. She has suggested that my wife not come now, but wait till the funeral. My wife agrees this would be best.

Frankly, I don't think my wife should go now OR to the funeral. She is a nervous person anyway and this ordeal would make a wreck out of her. Furthermore, our children are small and I would have to arrange with the neighbors to take the baby when I am at work. It would also mean that I'd be doing the laundry and cooking.

Wouldn't it be more sensible to use the trip money on something we need? We need plenty. What is your advice?—SPOKANE DAD

Dear Dad: I don't know what you "need" but there are mighty few things as important as sending your wife to her mother's funeral.

If you deny her this trip because you think it would be more sensible to spend the money on something else, you'll regret it.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 17 and live with my father and step-mother. I don't mind working around the house, in fact, every girl should do her share, but I don't think it's fair that I have full responsibility for my four-year-old step-sister, Betsy.

If I want to go anywhere after school or on Saturday or Sunday I have to take my little step-sister along. My stepmother says she is cooped up all day and needs some relief. I hate to plan for a date on weekends because if my folks decide to go out I have to cancel my plans and stay home with Betsy.

If you say I'm wrong I will change my thinking and never complain again. I'd appreciate your answer in the paper.—MOTHER TO MY SISTER

Dear Mother To Your Sister: An older sister should help with the younger children. It's part of being a useful, contributing member of the family. But "help" does not mean full responsibility.

You should not be expected to take the little girl with you after school nor should you be asked to cancel weekend dates to stay at home with her. In an emergency, teenagers should be willing to make sacrifices, but every weekend can't be an emergency.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of, this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said Monday he has no interest in the Democratic nomination for governor in 1964. Commenting on speculation, Cavanagh said he was too busy as mayor to think seriously about the governorship.

Group's Main Course

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Not all the king's horses and all the king's men could convince us that sometimes making a soup yourself isn't worthwhile.

But we don't mind using a prepared soup to help along. In the following recipe a small can of dry onion soup mix is coupled with one of winter's best vegetables, broccoli, to make a good cold-weather contribution.

Is the committee you're working with on a community project meeting at your house? This soup would be excellent to offer with hot biscuits or rolls and a homey dessert like Apple Crisp.

For a lagniappe with the soup, you might like to try this California way. We did and found it a delicious and amusing garnish.

Buy some Canadian bacon—the kind that comes in a package and is thinly sliced—and pan-fry, oven-broil or grill according to package directions. Have on hand some extra broccoli flowerets, cooked lightly so they're tender-crisp and bright green, and fold a slice of the Canadian bacon over a floweret. Fasten with food picks so these trifles may be picked up with the fingers. If you serve the soup from a large tureen placed on a chop dish or platter, the bacon-broccoli tidbits can go around the tureen.

How much Canadian bacon will you need? We found there were 16 to 18 slices in a 6-ounce package. If you buy an extra bunch of broccoli, you'll have ample flowerets for one of these packages, and you can use the broccoli stalks for soup or salad for the family.

Broccoli Chowder
1 bunch (about 1½ pounds) broccoli
Boiling water
Salt
1 can (1½ ounces) dry onion soup mix
1 cup light cream
Herb or herb-and-spice seasoning
White pepper or tabasco sauce
Trim ends of broccoli stalks and remove leaves. With a swivel-blade vegetable parer, pare outer fibrous covering from broccoli stalks. Soak in cold water for about 15 minutes. Cut flowerets from stalks. Split large stalks lengthwise; cut into 1-inch pieces.
Gently boil the pieces of stalk in 4 cups boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt for 8 minutes; add the flowerets and cook 3 to 5 minutes more or until flowerets are just tender-crisp. Drain broccoli and chop fine—with a knife, a food-chopper or a blender. Reserve cooking water.

Turn 3 cups of the broccoli cooking water into a kettle with the dry onion soup mix; partly Broccoli chowder makes a fine main course for lunch or supper when it is teamed with rolls or biscuits and a homey dessert.

Mildred Antonson Is The Bride Of Jim Bergerson

Mrs. C. J. Bergerson

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Antonson announce the marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to C. J. (Jim) Bergerson, son of Mrs. Milton Lindblad and Harold Bergerson.

The double ring ceremony took place at St. John's Lutheran Church in Norfolk, Va., Feb. 2, at 3 p. m. with the Rev. Minnick Jr. officiating.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winkelman of Norfolk.

Two Escanaba Boxers Win Wisconsin Crowns

Bosanic Brothers Win Open Division Crowns But U.P. Team Loses

By RAY CRANDALL
(Daily Sports Editor)

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Two Escanaba fighters fashioned victories for the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing team against Fond du Lac scrappers in the Wisconsin sectional tournament before 2,500 fans at Brown County Arena here Monday night.

The Upper Peninsula team, hindered by an astounding decision that left the fans roaring in disapproval for 10 minutes, bowed to the Fondy champions by a 9 to 7 margin in individual championships.

The decision that stunned the Arena fans went against Lloyd Burris, Upper Peninsula novice light heavyweight champion from Sawyer Air Base, facing Jack Bulgurin of Fond du Lac, was in command throughout the bout. He slammed jarring rights and lefts to draw blood from Bulgurin's mouth and nose in the first round, rocked his foe with combinations in the second and raked punishing blows to the head and body through the third.

Fans sent up a solid chorus of boos that caused a lengthy delay in the 16-bout program.

Escanaba boxers who registered triumphs for the U. P. team were novice middleweight Dave Collins and novice heavyweight Bill Racine.

Scores Knockdown

Collins traded left jabs with Don Lutz of West Allis through the first round and socked his highly regarded foe with telling rights in the second. A looping right to the jaw dropped Lutz on the seat of his pants midway in the second round and the Wisconsin champion barely beat the count. Both boys tried in the third but Collins had a decisive edge.

Racine outpointed Ken Fish of Neopit in a rugged slugfest. The Escanaba football player got off to a good start in the first round and drew blood from Fish's nose with a jolting right. After an even second round, Racine spurted with a series of punches midway in the third and copped the verdict.

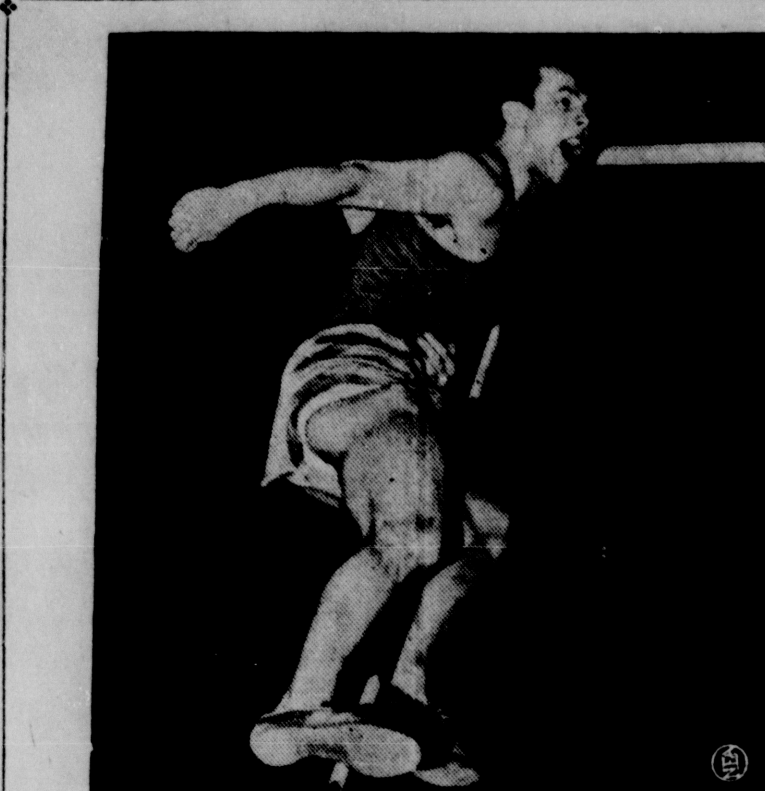

Manistique's veteran Bosanic brothers came through with flying colors for one of the brightest spots in the Upper Peninsula showing.

Larry, 147 pound king, got to Milwaukee's Tom Heister in the second round. Bosanic ripped left hooks and right crosses with machine gun effect to Heister's head to floor his foe midway in the round. A devastating right hand blast to the chin decked Heister in the third and the Milwaukee veteran was in serious trouble at the bell.

Pete Wins Easily

Pete, 160 pound standout, had no trouble pounding out a decision over young Carl Zurheide of Fond du Lac. Bosanic displayed the power punching that has made him one of the nation's best amateur middleweights, pouring a steady stream of damaging blows to Zurheide's head and body. Bosanic took all three rounds but was unable to drop his courageous foe.

Menominee also captured two championships for the Upper Peninsula team. After the U. P. scrap-

Valery Brumel shows the unique form that has him breaking world records. The Russian high jumper makes an unusually fast approach to the launching pad and brings both feet over the bar practically together, instead of dragging the left as most jumpers do.

Bob LaCarte and Dale Nault paced the Juveniles with six goals, followed by Mike Olson with five, Richard Menard and Jim Provo three, Jim Mileski and Dennis Bourdeau two, Rene Robitaille and Pat Cousineau one.

The Junior League was paced by Robert St. John with five goals, Dale Bittner, Ricky Waak and Tom Bourdeau three, Eugene Terrien and Bob Lauscher two, John McDonough, Dick Rusha and Dale Doupey one.

The Escanaba Junior team was defeated 19-0 by the Marquette Rotary Juniors, winner of the VFW state juvenile championship at the Soo recently.

Two Indians Eye Skiing Spots On Olympic Outfit

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Only a papoose slitter and 200 bucks stand between two Indians from Old Crow and a chance to make the Canadian Olympic skiing team.

Reports from the Far North Woods say the pair, one a 23-year-old mother of five little Indians, may be the fastest things on two skis in all Canada.

If they can make their way to Ottawa from Old Crow, an Arctic Circle hamlet on the Porcupine River in the Yukon, by Thursday, they will get a chance to make the Olympic team.

"I'm not going to pooh pooh anything," said Frank Cooke, the selector of the cross-country Olympic team for the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Cooke said he had advised the coach of the two Indians, Ben Charlie and Martha Benjamin,

Two Upper Peninsula Teams Keep Top Spots In Ratings

By The Associated Press
Signs of a slipping crown have appeared in the reigning quartet of Michigan High School Basketball teams.

While Benton Harbor, River Rouge and Ontonagon continue strongly to pace their classes, Champion's margin of leadership in Class D was reduced in The Associated Press prep poll results today.

The four have led since the first week of balloting. In the sixth week of balloting, The AP's panel of Michigan sports writers and sportscasters kept Champion (14-0) on top in Class D, but only by a point over Galien (12-0).

Benton Harbor (12-0) continued to lead in Class A. River Rouge (13-1) retained its lead in Class B and Ontonagon (14-0) continued at the head of Class D. The only change among No. 2 teams was in Class B. Hudsonville Unity Christian (13-1) regained the spot it relinquished last week as Vassar (12-0) dropped back to the third spot.

Detroit Northwestern (9-1) crashed the top ten in Class A, making it all the way to the eighth spot.

Lakeview (12 - 0) moved up a notch to fourth in Class B, while Paw Paw (13-1) made two jumps into fifth. Clawson (10-2) moved into the No. 8 slot after being out of the top ten for two weeks.

Addison (14-0) moved into fifth place in Class C, replacing Cheboygan Catholic Central (12-0) which dropped to sixth. Richland (11-1) moved back into the top ten after an absence of two weeks.

Changes in Class D included a jump of four places, from ninth to fifth, by Covert (11-1) and Saginaw Sacred Heart's (11-2) moved into the No. 10 position.

The voting based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for a second etc. through 1 point for a 10th-place vote:

Lary Confident He'll Come Back

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lary, quiet and determined as ever, nodded "yes" to the most important question of the Tigers' spring training.

Can he make a comeback and resume his status as one of the American League's top pitchers? Lary's first act after reporting on the field Monday was to head for the pitchers' mound.

He threw for some 20 minutes to Gus Triandos. There wasn't a twinge of the shoulder pain that turned a 23-game winner into a two-game winner last season.

"I can't feel a thing," said Lary later. "There's no pain in it."

"He thinks he is going to be all right," said Scheffing, who considered the injury to Lary the blow that cost the Tigers the 1962 pennant.

"Frank hasn't signed his contract yet and that's why I think he's going to be all right. Otherwise, he'd want to sign his contract right away so he'd make sure he'd get some pay."

"Gus looks great and I feel he can help us," Scheffing said.

Fix Mastermind In Cage Scandal Gets Prison Term

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Molinas, a tall, handsome ex-basketball star who once reportedly boasted he'd never be implicated, faced a jail term of 10 to 15 years today for masterminding a $70,000 fix of college basketball games.

"In my opinion, you are a completely immoral person. You are the prime mover of the conspiracy and you were the person most responsible. You callously used your prestige as a former basketball star to corrupt college basketball players and to defraud the public," Judge Joseph A. Sarafite of State Supreme Court told Molinas, 30, in passing sentence Monday.

The sentencing of the 6-foot-6 former Columbia University star and Ford Wayne professional player, along with two confessed bribers, was hailed by Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"We are indebted to the energies and efficiency of the law enforcement agencies of New York and appreciate of the attitude of the court itself," Byers said.

Sentenced with Molinas, who was convicted Jan. 8 on five counts of bribery, were Joseph Hacken, 42, of New York, and Philip LaCort, 39, of Boston. Hacken, described as Molinas' chief lieutenant in the plot to fix 43 games between 1957 and 1961, was sentenced to 7½ to eight years. LaCort, who pleaded guilty to fronting for a Boston gambling group, received 2½ to five years.

Aaron Wagman, 29, of New York, who had pleaded guilty to bribing nine players and making $7 bribe payoffs, received a suspended sentence of three to five years because he spent 23 months in jail as a material witness in testifying against Molinas. He also faces a five-to-10 year term on a Florida conviction for football fixing.

Five other former players, Lou Brown, Charles Tucker, Jerry Vogel, Dan Quindazzi, and Dave Budin, received suspended sentences after cooperating with Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan in his investigation.

Brown, who has moved from his Jersey City home to Greenville, N.C., formerly played at the University of North Carolina; Tucker, of Yonkers, N.Y., at Kalamazoo, Mich., College; Vogel and Quindazzi, both of Yonkers, N.Y., at the University of Alabama, and Budin at Brooklyn College.

Delegates Will Pick GOP Slate

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Monday he will leave it up to the delegates at the Republican State Convention this weekend to name the GOP candidates on the spring election ballot.

Romney told a news conference he will reserve the right to indicate a preference for the post of Republican state chairman if he decides to do so.

Arthur Elliott Jr., former campaign manager for Romney and now his administrative assistant, and John Gibbs, assistant to outgoing chairman George Van Penum, are the only publicly announced candidates to date.

Romney said he thought the chairmanship was different from the list of candidates for office because of the need of a close working relationship with the governor's office.

The governor said he has written all county and district chairmen calling a meeting with them and other party leaders Friday afternoon to discuss the qualifications of the candidates for election.

"There will be no effort at this meeting Friday to determine the relative strength or to establish a preferred list of candidates," Romney said. "The purpose of the meeting is to make certain the delegates will have accurate information about all the candidates."

Kremlin Orders Closing Of NBC Moscow Bureau

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government ordered the National Broadcasting Co. today to close its Moscow bureau because of a program about Premier Khrushchev.

The Foreign Ministry's press department called in NBC correspondent Russell Jones and told him to leave the country.

Press director Leonid Zamyatin told Jones that an NBC program Feb. 3 titled "The Rise of Mr. Khrushchev" and another late in January were anti-Soviet.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said: "This step was taken in connection with a recent series of malicious anti-Soviet broadcasts by the National Broadcasting Co. which grossly distorted Soviet reality and had the obvious purpose of arousing in the U.S. population hostility toward the Soviet Union."

NBC has been represented in Moscow by Frank Bourgholtzer since June 1961. Jones has been in Moscow while Bourgholtzer has been traveling in Spain.

He Saved Lincoln's Son, And His Name Was Booth

Booth grabbed the man by his coat collar and pulled him back...

By DON OAKLEY

History books record that an actor named Booth shot to death a man named Lincoln.

Few history books, however, mention the fact that an actor named Booth once saved the life of a man named Lincoln.

The first instance, of course, was John Wilkes Booth's assassination of President Abraham Lincoln in Ford's Theater in Washington. The other, which occurred shortly before this, involved Booth's older brother, Edwin, and Lincoln's son, Robert.

In 1865, Edwin Booth at 31 was the outstanding Shakespearean performer of his day. President Lincoln himself once watched him play Shylock at Ford's Theater, remarking that he would rather have read the play at home but went only to see the great actor.

Hosted By Crowd

The name Booth, in fact, had dominated the American stage for decades. It began with Junius Brutus Booth, who had three actor sons: Junius Brutus Jr., Edwin and John Wilkes.

John, the youngest, was the favorite of the South, to which he was fanatically devoted—even more than to his dream of eclipsing his brother's fame.

In November 1864, the three brothers had appeared together for the first and only time in Shakespeare's Julius Caesar at the Winter Garden in New York. Immediately after this, Edwin Booth had opened in Hamlet, and in March 1865 was completing a record run of 100 performances. The city of New York was preparing to present him with a gold medal.

It was about this time that business took Booth to Philadelphia. At the railroad station platform in Jersey City, a jostling crowd was buying tickets from the conductor. Booth saw a young man pushed by the crowd, lose his balance and slip from the platform just as the train began to move. Booth dropped his luggage, grabbed the man by his coat collar and pulled him back from probable death.

Stunned By Murder

The grateful young man was Robert Todd Lincoln, the President's eldest son. He was 22, recently graduated from Harvard and soon to take up duties as a captain on General Grant's staff. Grant, learning of the episode later, offered to do Booth any favor he could.

On April 14, 1865, the fourth anniversary of the fall of Fort Sumter, the nation was stunned anew by the murder of the President. Embittering the common grief was a hatred of the assassin that engulfed the entire Booth family.

In Boston, the theater in which

Edwin Booth was appearing was forced to close. Booth had to undergo a baggage search before he was allowed to leave the city.

In Philadelphia, a U.S. marshal placed a sister, Asia Booth Clarke, under house arrest and her husband was jailed.

In Cincinnati, Junius Booth narrowly escaped from a lynch mob, was arrested and taken to Washington where he was imprisoned for a time.

In New York, the mother of the Booths prayed that her son, John Wilkes, would not live to be hanged.

Scandals Revived

Lincoln's death brought out the best and worst in human nature. Stories of his funeral ran side by side with lurid "exposés" on the Booths. Old family scandals were dug up and new ones invented.

Edwin Booth swore he would never appear on the stage again. In the following months, he clung to the memory of his encounter with Robert Lincoln, as one rock in a sea of madness.

The assassination reacted against the whole acting profession, which was still considered something less than respectable. Preachers lamented the fact that Lincoln should meet his Maker in, of all places, a theater—one of those temples of folly, lewdness and infamy.

Stagehands and members of the cast at Ford's Theater were suspected of complicity in the crime and were either arrested or required to report daily to the police.

Theater Collapses

Financial need forced Edwin Booth to forget his vow. In 1866 he returned to the stage as Hamlet in New York. On the night of the play, the theater was jammed by would-be ticket buyers. Extra police stood by apprehensively.

But when the curtain rose, Booth received a standing ovation. The public trial of the Booth family was over; the verdict was acquittal. A year later, Booth received his postponed gold medal from the city.

Booth wrote to Grant, who had become secretary of war, reminding him of his promise of a favor and requesting that his mother be permitted to claim the remains of her son. Grant did not reply. Not until 1869 was John Wilkes Booth allowed to be buried in the family plot in Baltimore.

Edwin Booth died in 1893. As a final, tragic coincidence, on the day of his funeral in New York, three floors of the old Ford Theater in Washington, converted into government offices, collapsed, killing 22 persons.

Island Sale Suit Of Lapeer Couple Upheld By Judge

LAPEER (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Timothy C. Quinn refused Monday to dismiss a suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Thom of Metamora Township, Lapeer County, against a Sault Ste. Marie real estate firm for an accounting in the sale of an island in the St. Mary's River.

The judge also denied a defense motion that the case be transferred to another county for trial and ordered that depositions of witnesses be taken in the case Feb. 28.

The defendants are Anthony E. Audry, Theil Bailey, Ann M. Young and the Audry Realty Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Thom accused the defendants of collusion in selling them Harbor Island as a hunting preserve. They said they agreed to pay $110,000 for the property but later found out that the defendants had concealed the actual price at which they acquired the island.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summons to Gerard E. Clark, 1126 Stephenson Ave., defective brakes and no operator's license on person.

Escanaba firemen were called to the dwelling of Miss Florence Fuhrman, 1306 2nd Ave. N., when an oil stove overheated. There was no damage. The call was at 5:58 p. m. Monday.

Teacher Salaries Boosted By $192

LANSING (AP)—The average Michigan teacher made $6,091 in salary during the 1961-62 fiscal year—an increase of $192 over the previous year—according to an annual report from the State Department of Public Instruction.

Average salaries ranged, however, from $7,451 for Detroit's 10,017 public school teachers to $4,056 for 1,209 teachers in 919 primary districts.

The report also showed that the amount of total school spending devoted to teacher salaries rose slightly from 61 per cent in 1960-61 to 61.7 in 1961-62.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said the report indicates Michigan is "moving slowly but surely up the salary scale...to put the teaching profession in a realistic, competitive position."

He noted, however, that among Michigan's 66,000 public school teachers, some 24,000 averaged about $4,600 in salary and a few primary district teachers earned only about $3,000.

Following Detroit were districts in the 100,000 to 500,000 population range—Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Dearborn—which paid average salaries of $6,886.

Ten cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 population range paid an average of $6,479. They were Ann Arbor, Bay City, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Saginaw, Lincoln Park, Livonia and Roseville.

Also above the statewide average, at $6,715, were 18 cities in the 25,000 to 50,000 population range: Allen Park, Battle Creek, Birmingham, East Detroit, East Lansing, Ferndale, Garden City, Hamtramck, Hazel Park, Highland Park, Inkster, Midland, Muskegon, Oak Park, Port Huron, Southfield, Wyandotte and Grosse Pointe.

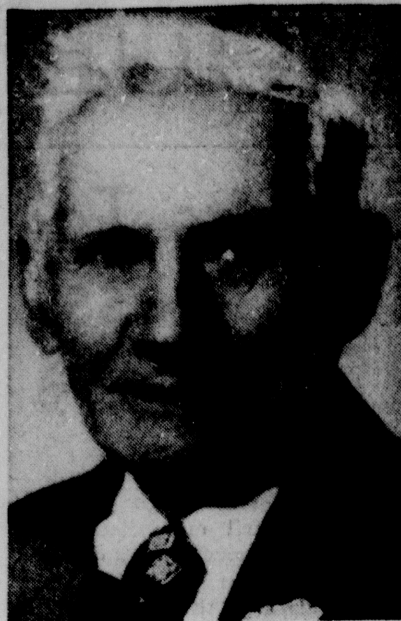

Some 54 others under 25,000 population paid average salaries to teachers of $6,214.

The state had a total of 1,794 public school districts during 1961-62, a decrease of 195 from the previous year, the report said. This has decreased until further to a total of 1,685 today.

Cliffs' Partners Withdrawing From Marquette Mines

ISHPEMING—Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. announced today that the McLouth Steel Co. has served notice that it is giving up its 50 per cent interest in the Bunker Hill mine at the end of 1963.

The company stated that much the same danger exists at the Mather Mine. Bethlehem Steel Co. has advised Cliffs that it is giving serious consideration to withdrawing from the Mather.

In discussions with State Rep. Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee and Ernest Ronn, Negaunee, international representative for United Steel Workers of America, H. C. Swanson, Ishpeming, manager of Michigan mines for Cliffs, emphasized the gravity of the situation and said that the solution must be found within the next few months.
